

Taking forward the Director of Public Health Annual Report – Tackling Inequalities

SUMMARY

- 1.1 As reported at the last Health and Wellbeing Board (HWB), the Director of Public Health Annual Report (DPHAR) 2017/18, 'How The Other Half Live' focuses on health inequalities in the Derby population through the fictional portrayal of two families - the Stanley's in Allestree and the Sahota's in Arboretum.
- 1.2 The report discusses a range of health issues and key statistics explored through the various health trials and tribulations of two families.
- 1.3 In January, the HWB agreed to further discuss and consider, as individual organisations and collectively, how we can start to reduce the health inequalities that exist in the city.
- 1.4 To start this discussion and to identify opportunities to impact on health inequalities, using a number of scenarios, HWB members will invited to participate in some group work to identify some individual and collective actions to tackle health inequalities in the city.

RECOMMENDATION

- 2.1 Board members are asked to consider and actively participate in discussions to identify achievable actions to reduce health inequalities in the city.

REASONS FOR RECOMMENDATION

- 3.1 The purpose and function of the HWB is to 'lead and advise on work to improve the health and wellbeing of the population of Derby and specifically to reduce health inequalities'. This recommendation supports the HWB in fulfilling this function.

Legal

- 2.1 Directors of Public Health in Local Government: Roles, Responsibilities and Context (Department of Health, 2013: p.10)

“In general the statutory responsibilities of the DPH are designed to match exactly the corporate public health duties of their local authority. The exception is the annual report on the health of the local population – the DPH has a duty to write a report, whereas the authority’s duty is to publish it (section 73B(5) & (6) of the 2006 Act, inserted by section 31 of the 2012 Act). The content and structure of the report is something to be decided locally.”
